

Greetings Potential Sponsor,

We are excited to announce the 3rd Annual Manhood Development and Girls Rock Camps scheduled for July 24th through 27th. Both camps will be held on the beautiful Mants Estates located in South Fulton County. The theme for this year's program is "Providing Teens with Tools to Thrive and Survive" and will be hosted by Poshabilities, is a 501(c) 3 organization.

The mission of Poshabilities is to strengthen Communities by improving lives through interactive programs that promote self-confidence, self-development, the Arts and literacy in an upscale atmosphere. By assessing each participant's natural talent, skill and passion our programs help identify matching careers and help develop that skill set. Field Trips are an intricate part of our program by introducing participants to the "finer" things in life (Posh People, Places and Things) through real-life experiences. The Field Trips are vital to goal-setting and achieving success

The camps will service 100 at risk youth that are trauma survivors, in foster care, from single family homes or economically deprived. It will offer an interactive experience including a host of workshops designed to focus on social responsibility, character building, as well as challenging each attendee to aspire to be their best self. There will also be activities including horseback riding, fishing and team-building. In addition, the participants are introduced to positive role models who are leaders in various areas, including business, sports, community and entertainment.

This program can only be successful with your financial or in-kind support. Please review the attached sponsorship information and confirm your commitment to support this worthy cause.

If you have any questions feel free to call me at 770-322-3597 or email info@poshabilities.org. We look forward to your favorable response.

Sincerely,

Shelia Mants
Camp Coordinator

Kendall Newson is a former American football wide receiver in the National Football League. He was selected by the Jacksonville Jaguars in the 7th round (222nd overall) of the 2002 NFL Draft. He was also a member of the Tennessee Titans, Miami Dolphins, Rhein Fire, and Hamilton Tiger-Cats . In 2013, he entered the world of pro fishing by competing in the Bassmaster Elite Series of tournaments.

Kendall is the founder of Teach a Child to Fish is a 501 (c) (3) non-profit organization TACTF mission is to teach and mentor youth through fishing programs, to help them find their own true value of life, and to preserve and protect the great outdoors. The organization operates for the sole purpose of providing underprivileged, disable and less fortunate children with the opportunity to enjoy our natural surroundings through fishing outdoor activities and educational programs.

Joyce Kuhstoss has worked for the Boy Scouts of America as a Ropes Course Director at Bert Adams Scout Camp each summer since 2006. Her National Camp School training, which includes rock climbing, is a perfect backdrop for what she loves about working with youth.....instilling in them the confidence to try and succeed at opportunities they never imagined. With an emphasis on team building, Joyce encourages her students to focus on goals such as leadership, decision making, communication, and self-esteem. Based on the experiential education model, using a well-planned mix of challenging initiative games, problem solving activities and trust events, she helps motivate youth to "think outside the box" as they work together.

Joyce has a Bachelor's of Arts degree from University of Pittsburg in Human Service. She also has various training certificates from The National Camp School Training Program.

Janet Davis, the Health and Fitness Guru, worked as Program Administrator and Aquatics Director for the City of Atlanta for almost 25 years. She is passionate about health and fitness. She managed a portfolio of programs that lead an effort to increase opportunities for physical activity and unstructured play children in her district. She contributed to the positive youth development, empowerment and positive health outcomes of elementary, middle, and high school aged youth with a specific focus on managing multiple projects across the sports, fitness and recreation portfolio.

Janet has a Bachelors or Arts in Recreation Management from Shorter University. She is an expert at implementing sports, fitness and recreation programs designed to drive increased rates of physical activity, promote the constructive use of leisure time, strengthen social skills and encourage sportsmanship.

Josten Harvey is the CEO of Vantage Point Skate Company, an extreme sports team comprised of sponsored skateboarders from the Atlanta area. Josten began skateboarding at the age of thirteen. He continued to follow his passion for skateboarding and became the very thing he dreamed to be. Now he gives back to his community by spreading his love of skateboarding to the youth daily, via Instagram, Facebook, and other social media sites. With the help of his sponsors, SKB Robes llc, he has been able to reach out to as many as one hundred kids in the Atlanta area.

19 year old Josten says that he is passionate about motivating youth by relating the sport of skateboarding to real life. "The youth are the future, and we do everything we can to improve their environment through skateboarding+.
